After high school, moving to college is the most anticipated phase in the life of a student. One prominent point of comparison between college life & school life that everyone would agree with is; college gives a sense of freedom to students. In school, students follow the instruction of teachers & parents, but, in college, one likes to take charge of his/her life. Well, with freedom comes responsibility. This is the one life lesson that colleges aim to inculcate in students apart from course work. Through various training & programmes, the college administration indirectly teaches students to become responsible for their life. However, the first step that a college takes towards this is through the induction programme. Yes, the day that most students believe makes no sense. Well, it does. It is so important that the education ministry of India has made it mandatory. In this report, we will tell you all the reasons why it holds a lot of importance for a fresher.

OBJECTIVES

- 1) To familiarize the new student with the various branches, methods of study, various facilities, and the academic and administrative set up in the Institute.
- 2) To develop a sense of aesthetics and enhance creativity among students.
- 3) To generate favorable attitudes towards peers, senior students, teaching and non teaching staff in the Institution.
- 4) To inculcate value systems, ethics and leadership qualities among students.
- 5) To promote entrepreneurial thinking among students.
- 6) To inculcate effective communication skills, team work skills, multi-disciplinary approach, and develop a desire to apply knowledge of engineering for the real-life problems.
- 7) To sensitize students towards environmental issues and to develop an attitude to protect and conserve environment among students
- 8) To help new students adjust and feel comfortable in the new environment and inculcate in them the ethos and culture of the institution
- 9) To help them build bonds with other students and faculty members and expose them to a sense of larger purpose and self-exploration.

At Rajiv Gandhi College of Engineering and Technology, student Induction Programme is planned as soon as the first semester commences, before starting the regular classes.
